3. STELLENBOSCH UNIVERSITY'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR HARM TO YOU OR YOUR PROPERTY

3.1 The limits of our responsibility

The following terms are very important, because they limit your ability to claim for any harm to you, your property, or the loss of your property while you are

- on University property;
- participating in an activity relating to your studies or training;
- participating in sport or any other recreational activities;
- using any of our premises, buildings, equipment, or facilities; or
- staying in or visiting any of our residences or any of our other accommodation.

If you do not understand these terms, please ask for an explanation.

The University is responsible to ensure that its property, facilities, and equipment are safe and that you are given proper instructions or warnings for their use. If the University does not meet these requirements, it is responsible for harm caused to you or your property, or the loss of your property. In legal terms, the University is liable if your claim falls within section 61 of the Consumer Protection Act 68 of 2008. Aside from the responsibility referred to in this paragraph, Stellenbosch University will not be responsible for any harm to you or your property (including any damages flowing from the harm and all claims by dependents).

3.2 Insurance against injury

The University has insurance cover against injuries you might sustain while you engage in activities related to your studies. The cover includes activities on campus, in our laboratories, and on field trips. If you have a claim, you must let the university know immediately. You must also complete the insurance claim form as soon as possible. The University is not liable for any claims that are not covered by this insurance.

of the University, the particular faculty to which you will be admitted, and University housing. The rules are published, for example, in the University Calendar, on the website, and in your residence and may change from time to time. If this contract contradicts the rules, the rules will apply. Not following the policies, rules and regulations can lead to disciplinary action including expulsion, further legal action (e.g. a claim for damages and criminal proceedings), or both.

The intellectual property in these works belong to the University and you may not share or allow others to copy or distribute these works or infringe the intellectual property rights of the University in any manner.

4.4 You must respect the intellectual property of third parties

You must avoid infringing the intellectual property rights of others, including third parties, and are responsible for obtaining permission to use, share or copy the work where necessary. You must take care to avoid committing plagiarism and must acknowledge the work or ideas of others. This applies to all material made available to you for the purpose of studying such as textbooks, podcasts, illustrations, online course material, presentations and/or any other teaching and learning aids.

You must pay your registration, class, residence and any other fees on time. Read more in Part 3 (Student Fees) of the University Calendar and at www.maties.com. You are responsible for ensuring that all fees are paid in full and on time even if your fees are being paid by someone else (e.g. a parent/guardian NSFAS or bursary).

If you do not pay your fees on time you will be charged interest at the prime rate from the date on which the fees were due. The University may refuse you entry to examinations, withhold your results, refuse to register you for any further modules or programmes, or withhold your qualification certificate if your account is not paid in full. If the University has to take legal action against you, you must also pay all legal fees (at the rate charged by our legal representatives).

If you suspect that you have an infectious or contagious disease you must get medical assistance immediately, you must withdraw yourself from all University activities and accommodation and you must take all other steps to make sure that you do not infect other students or staff.

If you do not take these steps you will be held responsible for any claims that are made against the University. In legal terms, you indemnify the University against these claims.
